

- About Us -

SolKana, LLC. is a Massachusetts based Hemp company with cultivation operations in Connecticut. We currently perform R&D and testing for some of the nations largest most reputable seed producers primarily based in Oregon and Colorado. Our team consists of multi-generational farmers and greenhouse operators, cultivation experts and highly skilled breeders. Our work helps to ensure these producers put out a compliant product that thrives in particular climate zones making successful projects for farmers based on their individual goals. Our strategic partnerships allow us to offer high quality genetics at a fair cost to growers. Additionally, our value-add partnerships can help farmers find buyers, processors and extraction specialists for their crop come harvest. We will continuously be adding new genetics to the menu with a forward focus on the minor cannabinoids. Feel free to contact us at info@SolKana.com, We're happy to help in any way we can.

Wishing everyone a successful 2020 season!!
